EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE SPECIFICATION

On page 1, first paragraph, after "May 4, 2001," insert --now U.S. Pat. 6,860,849, --

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record fails to explicitly teach or fairly suggest an outer cover formed into a laminate structure which is provided over the core body, the laminate structure including an inner layer, an outer layer and at least one intermediate layer formed between the inner layer and outer layer, wherein the intermediate layer has a higher elasticity than the other two layers so that it functions as cushioning between the inner and outer layers, and further wherein at least one of the layers constituting the portion of the laminate structure has a thickness-varying region where the thickness of the layer varies in its longitudinal direction. As pointed out in the parent case (09/848,301), Sugiyama et al. (U.S. Pat. 6,458,075) appeared to be the closest prior art of record but failed to disclose an intermediate layer as part of a laminate structure and that an intermediate layer has a higher elasticity than the inner and outer layers. Additionally, Sugiyama et al. fails to disclose a thickness-varying region as claimed. Although Watanabe (U.S. Pat. 5,448,988) disclose a thickness-varying portion between two different layers (Fig.3), the laminate structure as claimed with at least three layers is not disclosed. Therefore, claims 1 and 8, having at least the above mentioned limitations, are allowable over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
